

Jenna King, Esq. Elected Chair of Pennsylvania Bar Association's Workers' Compensation Section

We're proud to share that Jenna King, Esq., an attorney at Martin Law, has been elected as the Chair of the Pennsylvania Bar Association's (PBA) Workers' Compensation Section.

This is an incredible honor and a reflection of Jenna's tireless work advocating for injured workers across Pennsylvania. Her leadership in the field of Workers' Compensation law continues to make a positive impact on the profession and the clients we serve.

As Chair, Jenna will help facilitate the sharing of information on key developments in Workers' Compensation law. The section also serves as a connection point to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Workers' Compensation, working to ensure that the interests of injured workers, employers, and the legal community are fairly represented in legislative, regulatory, and administrative matters.

At Martin Law, we are proud to have attorneys who not only advocate in the courtroom, but also help shape the future of Workers' Compensation law through leadership and service.

Please join us in congratulating Jenna King on this well-deserved achievement!

To learn more about our team and our commitment to protecting injured workers throughout Pennsylvania, call us at 215-587-8400 or visit our contact us page.