

Andrew Yang Joins Martin Law

February 25, 2015

(Philadelphia, PA) – Andrew Yang has joined Martin Law as an associate. Yang practices in social security disability law and comes to the firm from his work as an intern at the Temple Legal Aid Clinic, where he represented and interviewed clients and drafted briefs in support of disability claims. He also served as an intern at the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission and has also worked for the First Judicial District of Pennsylvania Court of Common Pleas. He is a graduate of Temple University and Temple University's Beasley School of Law and was a recipient of the James and Stella Liacouras Memorial Scholarship and a member of the Rubin Public Interest Law Honor Society. Yang is also fluent in Taiwanese.

With fifteen attorneys and offices in Bristol, Allentown, Reading and Philadelphia, Martin Law is one of the largest firms in Pennsylvania of its kind, focusing solely on Workers' Compensation, Social Security Disability, Long Term Disability and Veterans' Benefits.